Professional Overview

Parker Atkins, P.E., R.A.S., is a nationally recognized ADA expert witness and one of the few professionals in the United States who holds both a Professional Engineer (PE) license and Registered Accessibility Specialist (RAS) certification. With more than 33 years of civil engineering experience and 16+ years of ADA compliance and forensic ADA investigations, Mr. Atkins provides highly technical, defensible analysis for complex ADA cases.

He has performed hundreds of ADA evaluations, expert investigations, and litigation support assignments across Texas, the southern U.S., and multiple other states. His dual expertise in engineering and accessibility compliance enables him to identify deficiencies, interpret regulations, rebut false allegations, and provide clear testimony grounded in technical and regulatory authority, including expert witness testimony and depositions.

Mr. Atkins recently served as the expert witness for the Defense in an ADA slip-and-fall liability case in which the plaintiff alleged gross negligence. His technical analysis and testimony contributed to a unanimous Defense verdict.
